We're getting ready for the holidays. One of the key factors in WHOLE health is relieving depression and its effects on the mind and body. No one enjoys the feelings of stress or depression, and according to Mental Health America, "learning how to manage can be a small change with a big positive impact on your physical and mental health". If you know of someone who is seeking behavioral health resources or would like to inquire about adult inpatient hospitalization or intensive outpatient programming. A burial plot, sometimes referred to as a grave or funeral plot, is the spot where a body is laid to rest in the ground. Grave plot costs aren't just about the "where" and "what." There's also "when." As in, do you buy a plot now, or leave it up to your loved ones to buy a burial plot after you pass away? Our speaker will be on hand to answer questions regarding cost associated with a funeral, burial, and cremation. For more information please call 847-244-9242 or email ogarcia@waukegantownship.com. Perhaps unsurprisingly, the report devoted a significant amount of its page count to healthcare concerns. It divided these into three sections: health status, health risk, and health care. Here are some of the main statistics they compiled in those sections:

- Life expectancies have increased across the board. On average, people who live to 65 can expect to live about 20 more years.
- Women have a slightly higher life expectancy than men.
- Hispanic seniors have the highest life expectancy of any demographic, living an average of 2-3 years longer than people of other races.
- The #1 cause of death amongst seniors is heart disease, followed closely by cancer. That remains true across all racial and gender demographics.
- In spite of common health issues, seniors feel pretty good about their health in general. 78% of people over 65 rated their health as good, very good, or excellent.
- 15% of women and 10% of men over 65 report symptoms of depression. Those percentages go up with age; with 14% of men over 85 and 19% of women aged 80-84 reporting symptoms.
- Nearly 22% of seniors over 65 have a disability. The most common disability reported is difficulty with mobility. 44% of people over 65 report having difficulties with at least some ADLs. Needing help with ADLs is one of the main reasons seniors move to assisted living or consider hiring in-home care.
- Only about 12% of people over 65 said they spend time exercising.
- As with other age groups in the US, the proportion of seniors with obesity is on the rise. About 35% of people over 65 are obese.
- Almost all forms of health care for seniors are on the rise. The number of hospital stays, skilled nursing stays, hospital visits, and home health care visits have all gone up. About 1.8 million seniors over 65 live in nursing homes.
- Nearly 5 million seniors receive care from a home health care agency.

From the Older Americans 2016 Report on Key Indicators of Well Being.

During 2017-2018, Park Place buses transported 4202 seniors safely to and from medical appointments, grocery shopping at area stores, from senior buildings, to nursing homes to visit loved ones, and shuttles to and from Park Place for events, regular programs and important socialization.
